Thursday, November 19, 2026

8:30am-1:30pm

JA Take Stock in Your Future introduces students to the basic concepts of how the stock market works and how current events impact the market.

As a volunteer, you will help bring The JA Stock Market simulation to life by guiding students through the trading day. Volunteers will help in various roles as students make trades in real time. There are roles for everyone-print station, floor trader or news runners! No finance background is required—just enthusiasm, reliability, and a willingness to support an engaging learning experience.
